Christmas 1957

AND the angel, Gabriel, said to Mary, "Fear not, for thou hast found favor with God...

Thou shalt bring forth a son and shalt name him Jesus. He shall be great and be called the Son of the Highest." This Christmas as we worship and rejoice in celebrating the Nativity of the Prince of Peace, let us ever be mindful of the spiritual meaning of this great day and to live by and defend the teachings of Christ. Let us again reaffirm our faith in God and give thanks to Him for our countless blessings. As a nation of free people, let us pray for the less fortunate, who are fettered by fear and ignorance—for the sick and those in sorrow, that they may find new hope and happiness. Let us continue to pray for the unity of all nations, that all people may dwell in enduring peace and harmony. "And of His Kingdom there shall be no end."

School, Selectmen's Budgets Responsible For Biggest Boost

BLOODIED BUT NOT DISABLED — Andover police were summoned Sunday morning to check this abandoned car in Lowell Junction. The vehicle had been reported stolen Saturday night in Woburn. It was reported that the occupants must have been cut, during the accident based on the amount of blood found in the auto. They took off, however, into the woods. Andover police reported the car was taken back to Woburn and no further information is available about the occupants. (Leone)

COVER PAGE TELLS THE AGELESS STORY

The TOWNSMAN'S cover page today once again pronounces the established, fixed values of a Christian nation. It tells once more the story that will never age. It underlines the refreshing fact that the Star of Bethlehem is mankind's brightest hope and that it will forever eclipse man's puny rivals in its heavens!

The TOWNSMAN gratefully acknowledges with appreciation the cooperation of The International Paper Company who granted us permission to reproduce this hand-lettered text for our Christmas issue.

Town departments have asked for $2,511,234 — an increase of $439,989 over 1957 appropriations — in their tentative 1958 budgets. And as yet there are no estimates on the cost of special articles under consideration by official boards, nor by private citizens.

Although stressing that all budget figures are as yet tentative, the Finance Committee has gone to work on the proposals for the new year.

In addition to the budget increase, the town will also be asked to appropriate about $30,000 for salary increases to meet the requirements of the recommended wage classification program.

Total Proposals

This would bring the total budget figures to $2,541,234, or $469,989 higher than 1957 appropriations.

The salary increases would be carried in the departmental budgets for town meeting consideration, rather than as a special article accompanying the proposed (Continued on Page 15)

Urged To Zone For Business

A 30-acre, 20-store shopping center is being proposed for West Andover.

Atty. Richard Simmers and Harry Axelrod formally asked the Planning Board last week to have the area re-zoned for business. A buffer zone between residences on Lovejoy rd. and the proposed center is included in the plan.

Also to be proposed is a 10-acre re-zoning to allow a motel on the Carson farm.

Atty. Simmers was asked by the Board to draw up two articles for the town warrant and present them (Continued on Page 15)

Explains Why Budget Went Up

A statement of reasons for an increased school budget was presented by the School Committee last week, in written form.

The TOWNSMAN this week reprints the entire statement in the belief that widespread coverage should be given all town budgetary matters.

The statement reads:

"The Andover School Committee presents the following statement in explanation of their proposed budget for 1958. Since the budget for next year represents a substantial increase over that for 1957, the Committee believes it of unusual importance to have the items in the budget that are responsible for the increase and the reasoning of the Committee in connection with these items made clear to the town.

Wage, Job Evaluation Survey Recommends $30,000 For Raises

An increase of $30,000 over the total salaries paid to town employees in 1957, other than to teachers and elected officials, has been proposed to the Wage Board.

The increase represents six percent of last year's $500,000 total salary expenditure for these personnel.

In dollars and cents, the increase actually amounts to $40,000 — but the report explains that an appropriation need be made for only three-fourths of this amount, covering the April 1-Dec. 31 period. It is from this total, the amount actually needed in 1958, that the six percent figure is derived.

Under the wage and job classification plan, filed with the Wage Board by the Charles M. Evans and Associates, jobs in the town service will be classified under descriptive titles, with minimums, step rates and maximum salaries itemized for each job.

Thus the 1958 increase, while it is six percent of the 1957 salary total for personnel covered by the report, does not give a flat six percent to all these employees.

Some, according to the plan, will get a maximum increase in (Continued on Page Six)

Group Urges Board To Support Band

Several citizens appeared before the School Committee last week to ask its support of the All-Girl Band.

Spokesman for the group was Frank L. Brigham of Punchard ave., who urged the Committee to take over the responsibility for uniforming and maintaining the band.

He said the matter had been discussed at the Service Club and at other meetings with much sentiment for having the Band receive town support.

Charles Bowman also spoke for the proposal, stating that good reports come back every time the Band goes out of town to play. Various speakers insisted that the Band is a vital public relations organization for the schools and should be supported.

They said uniforms would cost $48 apiece and that 100 would be needed in 1958. They also mentioned the necessity of buying new instruments for the band.

The Band Parents organization can't raise the type of money needed for the major outfitting, they explained.

Chairman Roy Russell said he is getting more convinced that the project deserves being included in the budget and he suggested it has become an important problem because there had been little or no maintenance in the past.

Attending the meeting to talk over this problem were Francis Reilly, Mr. Bowman, Mr. Brigham, Charles Hill, Kenneth Thompson, William Rhoads and Douglas Howe.

1958 of $400 while others may get as little as $1, in order to place them on the proper level of the salary schedule.

No town employee covered under the report will be cut in pay, the document sets forth.

The recommended salaries and wages would, if accepted, mean as much as an $800 increase for one individual — but the Board has decided that a ceiling of $400 on increases during 1958 should be imposed to soften the impact on the tax rate. The remainder of the increase would be granted in 1959 plus any other increment the employee should receive that year.

The average wage adjustment, the report states, is under $200.

The Evans firm submitted its tentative report to the Wage Board and it was discussed at a meeting of department heads and elected officials last Saturday morning.

The Wage Board explained that the report may be further changed, based on additional information and after further consultation with department heads.

In addition to increasing salaries and wages and setting up standard job classifications, the report also listed one major change in fringe benefits. After 15 years' service, an employee would receive three weeks' vacation under the new plan. Other data in the report concerns sick leave, holiday schedules, overtime pay and procedures for changing job classifications, moving personnel from one job to another and other details of procedure.

Step Rates

New salaried personnel — not on an hourly basis — generally will start at a minimum and take steps up the salary ladder until, at the end of the fourth year, they reach the maximum.

New personnel paid by the hour will start at a minimum, take their first step up after six months, then at yearly intervals until reaching the maximum at the end of 30 months.

A few jobs are set up with only a minimum and maximum, with one year in the job being required before moving from bottom to top of the salary ladder. A few are listed at a single rate and are not entitled to step rates.

In the case of policemen and firefighters, newly-hired personnel would start at the minimum and take yearly steps up until reaching a maximum at the end of the third year.

How It Works

All present employees will be placed on the salary schedule at their proper step, based on their longevity in the town service and their present salary.

For instance, a laborer on the Board of Public Works now receives $1.56 hourly.

The new schedule calls for a minimum starting pay of $1.46; jumping to $1.52 after six months; then to $1.58 one year later; to $1.64 a year after that and finally to $1.74 at the end of 42 months.

Present employees would be placed at the step where they belonged through longevity. But employee only recently hired would not be cut back to the minimum of $1.46 — instead he would be placed at $1.58, the rate just higher than his present $1.56. But he would have to stay at that rate until he had accumulated 18 months service, then move up to the next step on the ladder.

Thus, although recently-hired laborers might be out of line on the schedule longevity-wise, they have to wait for another step-rate increase until they have worked for the town long enough to merit the next increase.

In the case of cemetery department laborers, who start now at $1.60, a recently-hired employee would have to go on the schedule at $1.64 — the step allocated to men with 30 months' service. But he would have to wait until he had worked 30 months before taking the final step to the maximum.

Job Listings

The report, itemizing jobs and pay schedules, does not deal with individuals except in cases when there is only one person holding down a job of the specific category. This is true in the case of the police and fire chiefs, accountant and a few other positions where only one person is involved.

Under the recommendations, the deputy fire chief and police sergeant have only a minimum and maximum listed, with one year in minimum pay step to be served before jumping to the top pay. Thus a new deputy or new sergeant would start at $4850, serve one year and reach $5150. Present deputy chiefs will receive approximate increases of $452 apiece, being placed on the maximum because of longevity. Three of the four police sergeants will get increases of some $452 (over a two-year period) to reach the $5150 maximum immediately. The fourth sergeant, not in grade long enough, will be boosted to the new minimum of $4850 and move up a year later.

Both police and fire chiefs will get $147, going onto the maximum level of $6200. The new minimum for that job would be $5800.

Policemen and firefighters will fall into a schedule with a minimum of $3950 ($75.70 weekly) and yearly step rates of $4100 ($78.60 weekly), $4250 ($81.50 weekly) and to the maximum of $4400 ($84.30 weekly).

Spot checking the recommendations for individual jobs, the veteran's agent classification lists a minimum of $4470 and steps up to $5350, where the incumbent would be placed; welfare agent is listed at $4740 to $5670, over a four year period, with the incumbent to be placed at the maximum; librarian, $5020 to $6010 over a four-year period, the incumbent to be placed at maximum, accountant 5020 to 6010 with the incumbent to jump from present salary of $5216 to the maximum based on longevity.

Many Categories

The salary schedule itself lists jobs by title and code number, with recommended increases from minimum to maximum. Each job, however, has been described by the Evans firm so that the duties of each employee are clearly outlined. No information is yet available as to where individual

WAGE EVALUATION REPORT FILED

(Continued from Page Six) employees will fall in regard to their proper job. There are, for example, categories labeled as clerk-typist, clerk-stenographer, senior clerk-typist, senior clerk-stenographer — indicating that office personnel usually referred to as "secretaries", will be placed in individual classifications, with varying pay rates. Many other categories are set up by the report, in an attempt to get every full and part-time employee classified as to job and pay scale.

Arbitrary Due Date
One problem faced by the Wage Board relates to the date when annual step-rates become due. Arbitrarily, the date of April 1 has been set for all annual increments; and Oct. 1 for those coming due in six months. Thus some employees may work longer than a year, or six months, in one step before getting their increase. It works this way:

And employee is at minimum and needs 12 months employment to take the next step, but reaches the 12-month date April 10. He has missed the April 1 deadline and must work until the following April 1 to get the increase.

A laborer, for example, may start work and be due his first increase after six months, which expires in June. He must then wait until October before collecting it. Although the Board realized that some employees might have to wait longer than their specified time, it was believed that the annual increase date should coincide with the town meeting. Some employees, it was explained, would be involved in the problem, whatever date was established.

$7500 Price Tag On Development

Andover may be asked to appropriate $7500 as its share of the budget of a cooperative Greater Lawrence Regional Industrial Development Committee.

Proposals relating to the regional group were discussed at a meeting of the Planning Board, a meeting of the Commission and Selectmen, with John J. O'Malley, executive secretary of the Lawrence Industrial Committee. O'Malley is a prime mover in the effort to establish the regional activity. He said the current plan is to have model legislation drawn up establishing the group, submit the proposals to the town meetings in Methuen, Andover and No. Andover and then have the bill filed in the Legislature. He expected that action on it might be expected before June 1, if all the towns and Lawrence approve the proposals.

He said the budget for the year would probably amount to $50,000 to $60,000 and would probably be raised on the basis of 50 cents per capita, which would make Andover's share nearly $7,500.

The purpose of the regional industrial development, he explained, would be a "well rounded program where the hopes and separate interests therein represented may be more readily realized."

"The Greager Lawrence Regional Industrial Development Committee composed of the city and towns would not be a parent organization. Present thinking indicates that equal representation would be allocated from the three towns and city. The committee, with such representation from each of the cooperating bodies would have advisory and recommending powers only. Thus, each group would have access to the thinking of the others; encroachment or overlapping of activity is virtually eliminated and composite action becomes a reality," Mr. O'Malley said. He recognized that "the fierce New England desire and tendency to maintain individualism immediately precludes the use of any degree of force to subsidize the interests of one even though it might be to the advantage of the others."

He believed that a regional commission could accomplish adequate preliminary research on site examinations and site development. He also advocated collateral objectives to enable the towns and city to project capital expenditures for their presumed part in future land development. Mr. O'Malley advocated promotional activity as a "must" to offset aggressive competition from other areas, to convince others that Greater Lawrence offers many advantages, promote the area's economy, to hold its assets, attract skilled manpower, hold the manpower, acquire new plants.

He urged that planning for industrial development should be long range, comprehensive and coordinated.

"We are striving for a principle," he told the Andover officials, "together we can do much." He said he did not believe people realized the "tremendous impact" the opening of the new Route 28 and eventually the new Route 110 would have on the area.

The Andover boards were asked to give the idea "careful thought" and to forward their opinions to the Andover selectmen for transmission to the Lawrence group.

Bank Employees Receive Stock

Six Andover residents were among 28 employees of the Bay State Merchants National Bank who received shares of stock in the bank. President Howell M. Stillman, during the annual Christmas Party, announced that the directors had voted to give long-standing employees a share of stock for each five years of service.

The Andover residents are Priscilla Dame, Elizabeth H. Larson, Harold Winter, Harold A. Rutter, Robert Townsend and Russell Lord.

Our Wish To You

Although the words "Merry Christmas" are oft-repeated at this season of the year, we can't think of any better way to express our holiday wish for you, our readers.

And so we say, briefly, and with sincerity, "Merry Christmas" to you all.

Good To See Participation

It's good to see residents of the community taking an active interest in community affairs.

During the past few days it has been evident that interest — and participation — in the political campaign and election should be more widespread than in other years. There appear to be more candidates for town jobs, more real enthusiasm about taking part in the pre-election activities. This is all to the good.

For it is evident that, if a town is going to grow and prosper, it's citizens must take part in town government.

As you all know, we have occasionally pointed out that participation, through attendance at town meeting and in the number of candidates for elective offices, has been poor. We hope this renewed interest means a re-awakening of the old, New England spirit of participation by all citizens in their town's affairs.

Band Deserves Aid

Last week several citizens attended the School Committee meeting, asking that body to include money in the budget to support the band.

Apparently there already is an allocation of $2500 — but the figure suggested by the citizens was $6500.

They explained that the band needs 100 uniforms; that instruments are badly worn; that there has been little or no replacement of equipment or uniforms for a number of years.

Various individuals said the per-uniform cost will be $48 — thus indicating a need for $4800 for the uniforms, with the remainder going for instruments and other expenses.

It seems to us that this school-sponsored organization is deserving of support through municipal funds.

And it also appears logical to believe that half the uniforms can not be purchased one year; half the next. Those band members wearing the new uniforms would be conspicuous, as would those wearing the old ones.

We certainly would support an appropriation of $5000, for the purpose of buying uniforms.

The Band Parents organization, it seems, might be able to raise some funds with which instruments could be purchased. And next year, the School Committee might again include a sum in its budget for replacement of instruments.

As long as the band is school-sponsored, for which the members get academic credit; and as long as the school authorities have complete control of its activities; then we certainly feel that the town must support it properly.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — December, 1907

Andrew McTernan, for many years superintendent of the Tye Rubber Co., has completed 39 years of service. He started with the firm as a boy and has worked up to responsible jobs before his retirement.

The Rev. Varnum Lincoln, one of Andover's long-time, distinguished citizens died Monday night at his home on Summer st. He was 88.

The Christmas Concert program in Frye Village hall last Sunday afternoon drew an unusually large audience.

George Abbott is recovering from an attack of the grippe.

J. P. West has his bakery all fitted up again and is ready to do business, after the disastrous fire.

Letter Carrier Joseph Blunt wants to acknowledge his many Christmas gifts, with thanks.

25 Years Ago — December, 1932

The salary axe fell on the school teachers and other school department personnel Tuesday night, when the School Committee voted an eight percent reduction in salaries, starting Jan. 1. Actually, including the two weeks' pay the teachers are giving the unemployment emergency fund, the decrease in take-home pay is 10 percent. A move to cut pays only five percent was defeated, although one member argued that pays must be kept high enough to attract good teachers. The superintendent's pay also was cut, after he waived a state law requiring one year's notice of a pay decrease for superintendents. It is believed the town will save some $9000 from the decreases.

A complete list of salaries, for elected and appointed officials and all employees is given in this week's TOWNSMAN, following intense interest shown by many citizens in a partial list published last week.

Post 8, American Legion had its Christmas party Tuesday night. Comic gifts were given the members and their friends.

10 Years Ago — December, 1947

Before a large and appreciative audience, Andover's first real old-fashioned Christmas festival program was opened Sunday afternoon in Memorial Auditorium. Children of all schools presented a program and pageant. The names of many prize winners in various contests sponsored by organizations were announced later in the week. Santa Claus arrived Tuesday, amid a heavy snowfall, which interfered to some extent with plans for his visit. But youngsters by the hundreds came out all the same.

A group of girls from South Church sang carols along Chestnut, Avon, Whittier and Summer streets Sunday night, to the evident enjoyment of the residents.

A state-wide search is on for a wild-eyed gunman who kidnapped a local officer, a Lawrence couple and their little girl. The young man assaulted a Lawrence motorist who had given him a ride; then kidnapped the four persons in Shawshen Square and took them on a ride to Lowell, Lexington, West Boylston and Worcester. The four were released unharmed.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY BETTY BLAISDELL

How to give a smashing teen-age party over the holidays may seem like a problem that should vex only the teen-ager, but as most of you mothers will agree the kids never manage to get off the phone long enough to think about "eats", much less prepare them.

What do high school juniors and seniors and the college set want for food at a party? They won't give you a clue till the big wrangle of who can come and who can't is over (this takes lots of time because there's always the added problem of a blind date for someone). So, Ma, since we're the real queens in the food department, anyway, what say we narrow it down to a few sure-fire hits?

A holiday punch, a "cocktail" dip for raw vegetables, the fabulous tuna roll as served in the Andover junior and senior high schools, potato chips and a delicious "cranberry crunch" cake for dessert. All of these suggestions have great appeal to the weight-and-complexion conscious teen-ager and should provide both the wonderful taste and gay holiday color a late evening snack calls for.

Mrs. Charles Currier of Hidden rd. handles party foods for young people with almost a touch of genius. She has prepared the punch for the Parents League's highly successful Tinsel balls and last year was hostess to 60 teen-age Parents League boys and girls at a buffet supper. This year she turned out punch for November Club's Christmas party, so her recipe is a good one to copy down, use and file away for next year:

YULE PUNCH

(Mrs. Charles Currier)

3 lg. bottles ginger ale
1 lg. cranberry juice cocktail
1 pint lemon sherbet
1 can frozen orange juice (if desired)

Orange slices to float

CRANBERRY CRUNCH

(Also Mrs. Currier)

1 cup rolled quick oats

1/2 cup flour

1 cup brown sugar

1/2 cup (scant) butter

1 can cranberry sauce, jellied

or whole

Mix the oats, flour and brown sugar, cut in the butter until crumbly. Put half of this mixture in a greased 8-inch square cake pan, cover with cranberry sauce, top with other half of mixture. Bake 45 min. in a 350 degree oven. Serve hot or cold in squares, top with a scoop of vanilla ice-cream. Wow, the kids love it! The richness of the cake is cut by the tartness of the cranberry. Serves 9.

TUNA-EGG ROLL

(Mrs. Florence McGrath)

Mrs. McGrath, who is director of school cafeterias in Andover, has concocted the tastiest tuna roll imaginable — always a tremensume?, Anstruther; Jeb Stuart, Davis; Three Worlds Of Albert Schweitzer, Payne; Harriet Tubman, Conductor On The Underground Railroad, Petry; The Lunatic Fringe, Johnson; The Square Pegs, Wallace; Dreamers Of The American Dream, Holbrook; Mind And Art Of Henry Adams, Levenson; Testament Of Experience, Brittain; Winston Churchill, Taylor; World Without A Roof; Davis; Man Against Insanity, De Kruif; Albert Gallatin, Walters; Sweet Promised Land, Laxalt; Charlie, Hecht; My Memories Of Six Reigns, Marie; Face To Face, Mehta; Cast Off The Darkness, Putnam Richard Rogers, Ewen; Sainte-Beuve, Nicolson.

Candidates' Papers

All candidates for office may leave their nomination papers in the vestibule of the Memorial Hall Library. However, the library disclaims responsibility for their accurate filling out or the completion of the form, since there can be no supervision in the outer vestibule.

dous hit with the high schoolers. Tuna is a universal favorite, anyway, so you can't settle on a better sandwich filling if you tried. She uses a regular frankfurter roll for school but suggests for a party that you use a half of a hamburger bun, open-face and garnish with a sliced, stuffed olive. A big salad bowl full of fresh potato chips close by, of course. Oh yes, butter the rolls says Mrs. McGrath.

2 lg. cans tuna
6 hard cooked eggs, chopped chopped parsley
chopped celery
onion salt
salt and pepper
Alamo seasoning
mayonnaise
fresh lemon juice

Flake the tuna, add the hard-cooked eggs finely chopped, then add the other ingredients in proper proportions and as common sense directs you.

VEGETABLE DIP

(Mrs. Munro Leaf)

With her sons, Gil, a senior at Phillips and Andy, home from Harvard, Mrs. Leaf has many young get-togethers for fun and snacks at home. On occasions the Leaf entertain such groups as the entire Andover junior Lacrosse team! was pleased to get her recipe for a favorite raw vegetable dip to go with a holiday punch:

1 lg. pkg. cream cheese
chili sauce
mayonnaise
garlic salt
oregano

The above seasonings must be measured to taste and discretion, remembering that proper consistency is of primary importance. Drips, please, on the turnips. Quartered tomatoes with pickles will be dunked, also slices of cucumber and carrot and "flowers" of raw cauliflower — for these forget the picks.

Do have a Merry Christmas, All!

Jingle Bell Hop Enjoyed By 400

Beautifully designed decorations added excitement to the Jingle Bell Hop, a Christmas dance, given by the Junior High Student Government Association for all its members last Tuesday from 4 to 7 o'clock. Four hundred girls and boys danced to the music furnished by Robert Phinney and enjoyed a delicious supper in the cafeteria, served by the refreshment committee.

Hosts and Hostesses included the following teachers and parents: Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dimick, Mrs. Dale Owens, Miss Alice Libbee, Miss Evelyn Parker, Mrs. Henry DeCesare, Mrs. Walter Partridge and William Hart of the faculty; and Mrs. Robert Grap and Mrs. Harold Wennik, parents of Student Government officers.

The focal point of the decorative scheme was Santa's sleigh and reindeer, in life-size cutouts which ran the length of the gymnasium. The decorations were designed and made by Doris Bennett, Nancy Pearson, Judith Wright, Linda Henderson, Dorothy Swenson, Susan Wennik and Geoffrey Davis.

The refreshment committee was made up of the following members: Janet Auchterlonie, Janet Stern, Harline Dennison, Marie Driscoll, Lynda Muller, Daniel Dunn, James Bowman, Virginia Cargill and Nancy Cole.

Plans to remodel a barn on the Carson property into a colonial restaurant are also being considered.

Co-Op Expansion

In other business related to business expansion, the Planning Board discussed re-zoning the business area downtown.

Miss Mary Angus, Cleveland, Gilcrest and Mr. Blake represented the Andover Co-Op and urged re-zoning on the portion of Chestnut st. not now zoned for business, to Bartlet st.

Karl Killorin urged the Board to consider re-zoning No. Main st. to the Lawrence line, Main st. to Morton, Central st. to Bartlet st., both sides; and Elm st.

Selectman Sidney P. White asked the Board to consider zoning the Main st. to Morton st. area for business, stating that he had received numerous requests for expansion of the business district.

The Co-Op officials told the Board that they also have obtained a professional survey from Dr. Cohen. The recommendation was that the business either be moved possibly to the Schlott development on No. Main st. or expand where it is. The survey recommended that the present selling area of 3400 square feet be increased to 8-10,000 square feet. The Co-Op presently owns the property at the corner of Bartlet and Chestnut sts. and the property going up Chestnut st. was said to be available for business use, except for one small lot. It was also suggested that some other business might be willing to help out financially on the parking area, if its customers could use the site.

Other Business

Albert Cole Jr. was present at the meeting, discussing a possible site for a new fire station in West Andover. He is a member of the Land Committee authorized by town meeting last March. Members agreed that a site west of Route 28-Lowell st. interchange would be best.

Final plans for the Herbert Rines development off Chestnut st., next to the Carl Stevens sub-division, were approved. A 20-foot easement will be included for an eight-inch sewer pipe and an eight-inch water main connecting the developments.

The Board voted to retain the consulting services of former town engineer Ralph Preble Jr., a position he has held for some time.

BUDGETS TOP 1957

BY $469,000

wage classification by-law.

The biggest increase comes in the School Department budget, $216,623 over the 1957 amount of $801,764.

Not far behind, however, is the Selectmen's budget which stands at $989,918.50 — a whopping increase of $130,739.98. Much of the increase results from previous town meeting action, with the budget items for interest and principal payments showing big gains over last year.

The Board of Public Works has asked for $402,020 — an increase of $82,448 over the 1957 appropriation. Special articles for that department are not yet available, nor has the break-down of the budget itself yet been released for the public.

The Library budget for 1958, $61,940, is up by $8,151 over 1957's appropriation. Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian, explained that the proposed figure includes the normal salary increments for personnel, as approved by the trustees. The figure is subject to change, she said, after the wage evaluation report is received and studied.

The Spring Grove Cemetery budget stands at $21,269, the same as last year.

And the Board of Health budget is $17,700, only $34 more than voted last March for 1957 use.

(Ed. Note: Further details on the budget breakdowns, as far as available, will appear in next week's TOWNSMAN.)

$6,000; and it provides for a fourteen-step rate of increase as follows: $300 a year for the first four years, then $100 a year for the next ten. In addition, it cuts all payments for extras and abolishes the former salary differential for B. A. and M. A. degrees.

"We believe that there can be little argument about the increase in starting salary. Our present one is what the state has established as a minimum which must be paid in Massachusetts. Obviously, we are not going to be able to draw superior new teachers if we can offer them only a starting salary which is the lowest legally possible in the state.

"We believe that the relatively large increases during the first four years is one of the strongest parts of the new salary scale and will do a great deal to help us attract superior new teachers. In effect, it enables a teacher to reach a strong financial position in the community within a few years after he or she has started in the profession. This should, we believe, encourage teachers to remain in their chosen profession.

"The maximum of $6,000 is, we believe, essential if we are going to be able to do away with extra payments for extra-curricular duties. Up until now, we have not been in a position to expect most teachers to devote time to extra-curricular activities, in addition to their regular duties, without added compensation. As a result, it has been difficult to ask any teacher to do any outside job without paying extra for it, since it was obviously inequitable to pay some for extra work and not others. We believe that this feature of the new salary scale will mean a great deal in increase extra-curricular programs in the school system.

"Obviously, in any salary change of this scope, there are bound to be inequities, and we admit that some will exist temporarily in the present one. A few teachers will be overpaid, a few will be underpaid. But in the majority of cases, we believe that the new salary scale is realistic in the light of contemporary developments in Massachusetts and essential to the development of a strong school system in the Town of Andover.

"We have spent many hours trying to devise a way of spreading the cost of this increase over more than one year and have concluded that it is impossible. If the increase were to be split, we should have to forego the elimination of the extra payments, for one thing. Furthermore, we are convinced that it is better to put a new scale in all the way at one time and get everyone on it, once and for all. If this is not done, the chances are that it will never be done consistently and fairly. The various parts of the proposed new salary scale are so inextricably intermeshed that it is impossible to split the increases up into parts.

"The estimated cost of the new salary scale is $83,000. "With the adoption of this salary scale it will be the responsibility of the School Committee to translate the raises into an improved educational system for the Town of Andover.

Other Reasons

"4. The remaining $49,000 of the budget increase is due primarily to these factors. "General increase in operating expenses of previously existing facilities.

"Salaries of new staff members added in September 1957, budgeted for a whole year.

"Salary increases granted in April 1957, now budgeted for a complete year.

"Extra services and equipment deemed necessary to improve the system."

wishes to assure Suburban Household Enterprises Inc. that it has in no way meant to imply that it is not a responsible and competent firm, and that they, the Board, made the award for the town garage to the L. C. Cyr Company because they believed that Suburban Household Enterprises Inc. had withdrawn their bid."

The letter was signed by Allen M. Flye, chairman of the Board.

As part of the agreement, Suburban was paid $500 by the L. C. Cyr Co. Suburban has given written releases of all claims against the town, the BPW and the Cyr Co.

The suit, filed by Suburban, was based on a BPW decision to award the contract for the town garage construction to Cyr, who was the second-low bidder. Testimony in the case was heard in Salem by Judge Francis Goode and the settlement was reached Dec. 13 as the trial neared a conclusion.
